National legislation must be enacted to give effect to this right and may provide for reasonable measures to alleviate the administrative and financial burden on the state.

Where a request is made in terms of this Act, the private or public body to whom the request is made is obliged to release the information, except where the Act expressly provides that the information must not be released. The Act sets out the requisite procedural issues attached to such request.

10. ACCESSING RECORDS HELD BY GUARDRISK

Records held by Guardrisk will be accessed only once the prerequisite requirements for access have been met by a requester. A requester is any person making a request for access to a record of or held by Guardrisk. There are two types of requesters:

1. Personal requester

A personal requester is a requester who is seeking access to a record containing personal information about the requester.

Guardrisk will voluntarily provide the requested information or give access to any record regarding the requester's personal information. The prescribed fee for reproduction of the information requested could be charged.

2. Other requester

This requester (other than a personal requester) is entitled to request access to information on third parties. However, Guardrisk is not obliged to voluntarily grant access. The requester must fulfil the prerequisite requirements for access in terms of the Act, including the payment of a request and access fee.

11. REQUEST PROCEDURE FOR ACCESSING RECORDS

- The requester must comply with all the procedural requirements contained in the Act relating to the request for access to a record.
- The requester must complete the prescribed form enclosed herewith in "Annexure 4" and submit same as well as payment of a request fee and a deposit, if applicable to the Information Officer at the postal or physical address, fax number or electronic mail address as stated in Part I above.

[Requesters please note that all of the information listed above should be provided, failing which the process will be delayed while the private body requests such additional information. The prescribed time periods will not commence until all pertinent information has been furnished to Guardrisk].

- The prescribed form must be filled in with enough particularity to at least enable the Information Officer to identify:
 - The record or records requested;
 - The identity of the requester (or person acting on behalf of the requester where applicable);
 - The telephone number, postal address or fax number of the requester; and
 - What form of access is required if the request is granted.

- The requester must state that he requires the information in order to exercise or protect a right and clearly state what the nature of the right is so to be exercised or protected. In addition, the requester must clearly specify why the record is necessary to exercise or protect such a right.
- The manner in which the requester wishes to be informed of the decision on the request, if in a manner in addition to written notification.
- The institution will process the request within thirty days, unless the request contains considerations that are of such a nature that an extension of the thirty-day time limit is necessitated.
- The requester shall be informed whether access is granted or denied. If, in addition, the requester requires the reasons for the decision in any other manner, the requester must state the manner and the particulars so required.
- The requester shall be informed whether access granted or denied. If, in addition, the requester requires the reasons for the decision in any other manner, he must state the manner and the particulars so required.
- If a request is made on behalf of another person, then the requester must submit proof of the capacity in which the requester is making the request to the reasonable satisfaction of the Information Officer.
- If an individual is unable to complete the prescribed form because of illiteracy or disability, such a person may make the request orally.
- The requester must pay the prescribed fee before any further processing can take place.

12. DECISION ON PROVIDING INFORMATION

- Guardrisk will, within 30 days of receipt of the request, decide whether to grant or decline the request and give notice with reasons (if required) to that effect. The Information Officer will take all reasonable steps to find a record that has been requested. If the record cannot be found or does not exist, the Information Officer must notify the requester by way of affidavit or affirmation that it is not possible to give access to the record. This is deemed to be a refusal of the request. If, however, the record is later found, the requester must be given access if the request would otherwise have been granted.
- The 30-day period within which Guardrisk has to decide whether to grant or refuse the request may be extended for a further period of not more than 30 days if the request is for a large amount of information, or the request requires a search for information held at another office of Guardrisk and the information cannot reasonably be obtained within the original 30-day period. Should an extension be required, Guardrisk will notify the requester in writing and will also provide the procedure involved should the requester wish to apply to either the Information Regulator or a court against the extension.

If the request is:

- Granted: the notification must state the applicable access fee required to be paid, together with the procedure to be followed should the requester wish to apply to court against such fee, and the form in which access will be given.
- Declined: the notification must include adequate reasons for the decision, together with the relevant provisions of the Act relied upon and provide the procedure to be followed should the requester wish to apply to court against the decision.

The Information Officer's failure to respond to the requester within the thirty-day period constitutes a deemed refusal of the request.

Section 59 provides that the Information Officer may sever a record and grant access only to that portion which the law does not prohibit access to.

If access is granted, access must be given in the form that is reasonably required by the requester, or if the requester has not identified a preference, in a form reasonably determined by the Information Officer.

12.1 GROUNDS FOR REFUSAL OF ACCESS TO RECORDS

Guardrisk may refuse a request for information based on the following:

- Mandatory protection of the privacy of a third party who is a natural person, that would involve the unreasonable disclosure of personal information of that natural person.
- Mandatory protection of the commercial information of a third party, if the record contains:
 - Trade secrets of that third party.
 - Financial, commercial, scientific, or technical information which disclosure could likely cause harm to the financial or commercial interests of that third party; and
 - Information disclosed in confidence by a third party to Guardrisk, if the disclosure could put that third party at a disadvantage in negotiations or commercial competition.

- Mandatory protection of confidential information of third parties if it is protected in terms of any agreement or legislation.
- Mandatory protection of the safety of individuals and the protection of property.
- Mandatory protection of records which would be regarded as privileged in legal proceedings.
- The commercial activities of Guardrisk, which may include:
 - Trade secrets of Guardrisk.
 - Financial, commercial, scientific, or technical information which disclosure could likely cause harm to the financial or commercial interests of Guardrisk.
 - Information which, if disclosed, could put Guardrisk at a disadvantage in negotiations or commercial competition.
 - A computer program which is owned by Guardrisk, and which is protected by copyright.
- The research information of Guardrisk or a third party, if its disclosure would disclose the identity of the institution, the researcher or the subject matter of the research and would place the research at a serious disadvantage.
- Requests for information that is clearly frivolous or vexatious, or which involve an unreasonable diversion of resources shall be refused.

Notwithstanding the above, disclosure is mandatory where it would reveal a contravention of, or failure to comply with, the law, or an imminent and serious public safety or environmental risk.

13. REMEDIES AVAILABLE WHEN GUARDRISK REFUSES A REQUESTOR

- Internal Remedies
Guardrisk does not have internal appeal procedures. Therefore, the decision made by the Information Officer is final. Requesters who are dissatisfied with a decision of the Information Officer will have to exercise external remedies at their disposal.
- External Remedies
A requester or a third party, who is dissatisfied with an Information Officer's refusal to disclose information, or the disclosed information may within 30 days of notification of the decision, apply to the Constitutional Court, the High Court or another court of similar status for relief.

14. FEES

- The Act provides for two types of fees, namely:
 - A request fee, which will be a standard fee; and
 - An access fee will be calculated considering reproduction costs, search and preparation time and cost, as well as postal costs.
- When the request is received by the Information Officer, the officer will by notice require the requester, other than a personal requester, to pay the regulated prescribed request fee (if any) before further processing of the request.
- The Information Officer can withhold a record until the requester has paid the fees as indicated.
- A requester whose request for access to a record has been granted, must pay an access fee for reproduction, for search, preparation and for any time reasonably required more than the prescribed hours to search for and prepare the record(s) for disclosure including arrangements to make it available in the requested format.
